

One of the first ways children learn how to swing is through rocking motions. The Toddle Rocker is a great first step toward swinging play. Children lay across the belt seat and move to and fro. It's a developmentally and age-appropriate motion activity for preschool children ages 6 to 23 months.

Features and Benefits:

- Developmentally-appropriate motion activity for children ages 6 to 23 months
- Helps prepare children for using a playground swing as they grow older
- Designed to limit to and fro motion for young children
